XM radio has changed the way people listen to music. You don't have to listen to the same 6 songs over and over mixed with 10 minutes of commercials in between. I think this is completely ridiculous that the government of this "free" country is trying to stop people from listening to traffic and weather, which helps Americans in their daily lives. I hope when Kerry gets sworn in this country will be a better place for us all. As for XM, they deserve to play whatever they want, we do have the freedom of speech, right?
